WE MEET TO DEPART
& Depart to meet again

Story by Mtulisi Skaap - Mzekandaba

A journey intended to bring loved ones home instead ended in an unimaginable tragedy, leaving families to confront the unbearable pain of loss. Twenty-one people died in the tragic taxi accident at Klein Karoo, sending shockwaves through families and communities far beyond the scene. Among those who passed on were 10 people from Elundini Local Municipality and one from Lesotho, who were travelling from the Western Cape towards Tlokoeng. They never completed their journey home, leaving families, friends and loved ones struggling to come to terms with a loss that words can hardly describe. On 23 September 2026, that grief was deeply felt at the Roman Catholic Church in Tlokoeng, Ward 09, where mourners, friends, colleagues, various stakeholders and members of the ELM community gathered for a mass memorial service to honour the 11 lives. After receiving the devastating news, Elundini Local Municipality Mayor Nonkongozelo Ruth Lengs directed the municipal administration to make the necessary arrangements to honour the 11 lives and support their bereaved families. The directive set in motion a collective effort that brought together ELM leadership and employees, Reverend Tshepo Machaea, Nodada Funerals, SANTACO, ECTC, Mount Fletcher Taxi Association, the Department of Transport, SAPS, EMS, Joe Gqabi District Municipality, the House of Traditional Leaders, represented by Chief Sejosengoe, and Religious community and the entire ELM community. Through their collective support and

Through their collective dedication, the stakeholders worked together to ensure the memorial service was successfully organised and that the deceased were honoured with the dignity and respect they deserved. Their combined efforts underscored the strength of community solidarity in the face of tragedy. The 11 lives honoured at the memorial service were:

1. Mhlangabezi Ndaba – (Mpharane) Tlokoeng
2. Lulama Vundisa – (Lundini) Tlokoeng
3. Mxolisi Gidliza – (Tsolobeng) Tlokoeng
4. Onelihle Sihlwayi – (Nxaxha) Tlokoeng
5. Portia Ramosala – (Sethabathaba) Tlokoeng
6. Boniswa Nkonyane – (Ezingcuka) Tlokoeng

7. Siyamcela Sibanda – (Mbambangwe) Tlokoeng
8. Nomvuyo Ndaba – (Mparane) Tlokoeng
9. Tumello Ntemere – (Mphaki)Lesotho
10. Boniswa Ndaba – (Mbambangwe) Tlokoeng
11. Telile Telile (Driver) – (Mpharane) Tlokoeng

Inside the Roman Catholic Church, grief filled the gathering as mourners came together in prayer and remembrance. Reverend Vuyani Mathafeni opened the service with a prayer, setting a solemn tone for a day filled with reflection, tears and remembrance. He later prayed for the bereaved families as they lit candles and gently placed them in the sand, each flame symbolising a life lost and each candle carrying a silent prayer for comfort, strength and peace. As the candles were lit, the weight of the loss was felt deeply. For the families, every flame represented someone who should still have been alive — a loved one whose voice, laughter and presence would never again fill their homes. In that quiet moment of remembrance, grief and love became intertwined, as mourners honoured those they had lost while holding on to the memories they would carry forever.

In her remarks, Elundini Local Municipality Mayor, Cllr Nonkongozelo Ruth Lengs, offered words of comfort and encouragement to the bereaved families, urging them to remain strong during this painful period, not to despair, and to hold on to hope and faith as they navigate the difficult journey of grief. In a heartfelt message, the Mayor reminded families of the importance of standing together as family during this trying time, Her words carried a powerful message of unity, urging families to remain close, support one another and find strength together as they come to terms with their loss.

Messages of support were received from Siphelele Mdladlamba, a member of the Mount Fletcher Taxi Association and an eyewitness to the tragic incident. Mdladlamba shared a detailed account of what unfolded on the day of the accident, taking those gathered back to the events surrounding the tragedy.

ELM Mayor Nonkongozelo R. Lengs giving words of comfort to the families

His narration gave mourners a firsthand account of the circumstances surrounding the devastating loss of 21 lives. He recounted what he had witnessed, bringing the reality of the tragedy painfully close to those gathered. His testimony recalled the devastating events of that day and the lives suddenly and tragically lost, leaving families and communities to confront an unimaginable grief. As he spoke, some family members were overcome with emotion, while quiet cries echoed through the Hall. Representatives of SANTACO and Mr Mzwandile Nkewana of the Eastern Cape Tertiary Cooperative (ECTC) then offered messages of support. They expressed their appreciation for Elundini Local Municipality's efforts to honour the deceased and stand alongside their families during this difficult time.

Mr Nkanyiso Mkhize, Deputy Director in the Department of Transport, also addressed the gathering. He highlighted the department's continued efforts to promote road safety, particularly across the district, and stressed the importance of reducing road accidents in the Joe Gqabi District. Mkhize concluded by reaffirming the commitment of road officers to ensuring that motorists obey the rules of the road and take the necessary rest when they feel tired. He emphasised that responsible driving remains essential to protecting lives.

On 27–28 August 2026, the Elundini Local Municipality (ELM) Community Services Department conducted a clean-up campaign across the municipality's three towns, alongside the handover of personal protective equipment (PPE) to waste pickers. The initiative was made possible through a strategic partnership between ELM, Metpac and ECR, formalised through the signing of a memorandum of understanding (MoU). MetPac-SA is a registered Producer Responsibility Organisation (PRO) for metal packaging in South Africa and operates in accordance with the Extended Producer Responsibility (EPR) strategy. Under EPR, manufacturers, importers and brand owners assume legal, financial and operational responsibility for their products throughout their lifecycle, including their management and recycling after use.

Through the partnership, Metpac committed to supporting ELM's waste pickers by providing essential protective clothing to help them carry out their recycling activities safely and effectively. The programme began in Ugie at Ntokozweni Community Hall, where ELM Mayor Nonkongozelo Ruth Lengs addressed and encouraged waste pickers and recyclers. The Mayor recognised the vital role waste pickers play in keeping communities clean and urged them to remain committed to their work.

Mayor Lengs also used the opportunity to discourage communities from disposing of waste at illegal dumping sites. She urged residents to use the municipality's refuse collection services and familiarise themselves with the collection process to ensure that waste is disposed of responsibly.

"We encourage our communities to work in tandem with the municipality in keeping our towns clean. Residents are urged to make use of the refuse collection services provided by the municipality and to avoid illegal dumping. A clean environment is a shared responsibility, and every resident has a role to play in keeping Elundini clean and beautiful," said Mayor Lengs. Following the Mayor's address, municipal officials, waste pickers and other participants joined a clean-up campaign targeting several townships in Ugie. The initiative promoted environmental cleanliness while highlighting the important contribution waste pickers make to maintaining cleaner, healthier communities.

On 28 August 2026, the penultimate leg of the programme continued in Nqanqarhu, where local recyclers also benefited from the initiative. In addition to receiving support through the programme, the Nqanqarhu recyclers were assisted with registering new waste pickers and received information and guidance about the recycling programme. The registration drive is expected to bring more waste pickers into the formal recycling network while ensuring that they have access to relevant information and support from the municipality and its partners. The final leg of the programme concluded in Tlokoeng on 1 September 2026, where waste pickers came out in large numbers to participate in the initiative.

Waste pickers turned out in large numbers to participate in the initiative. Their strong attendance reflected the enthusiasm and commitment of local recyclers, who expressed appreciation for the support and opportunities created through the partnership. The three-day programme underscored the importance of collaboration in promoting sustainable waste management and supporting the livelihoods of waste pickers. Through continued partnerships and community participation, ELM remains committed to fostering cleaner, healthier and more sustainable communities across Elundini.

BUILDING BETTER Communities - ONE ROAD AT A TIME

Story by Mtulisi Skaap- Mzekandaba

Elundini Local Municipality continues to make strides in bringing meaningful service delivery closer to communities through the implementation of infrastructure and construction projects across its wards. With a strong focus on addressing community needs, the municipality is prioritising projects that improve access, connectivity and the overall quality of life of communities. From roads and other essential infrastructure to projects that support safer and more connected communities, these interventions demonstrate the municipality's commitment to ensuring that development reaches communities where it matters most by investing and maintaining infrastructure across its wards. ELM is not only responding to immediate community needs but also laying the foundation for sustainable local development.

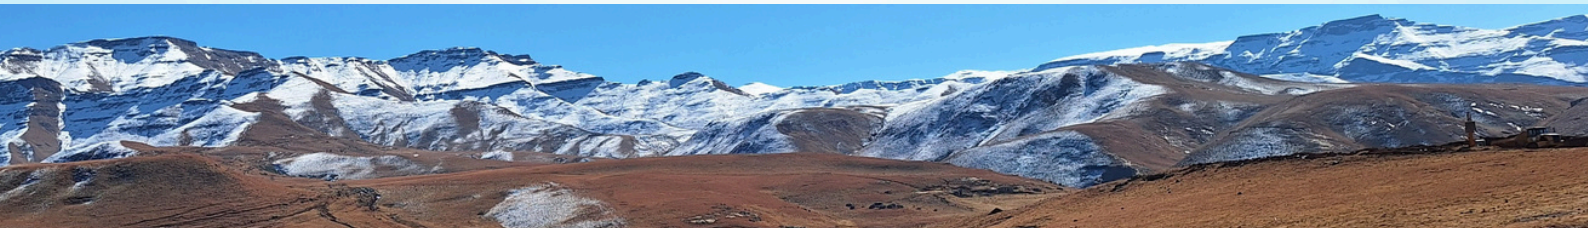

One of the areas receiving continued attention is the maintenance of access roads, particularly in rural communities where reliable road networks are essential for everyday movement and access to basic services. Through a range of maintenance interventions, the municipality is working to improve road conditions and ensure that communities remain connected. As part of this ongoing work, Tabase Access Road in Ward 11 has undergone regravelling and reshaping, improving the road for the community of Tabase and surrounding areas. Similar interventions have been implemented in Ward 14, where the municipality has undertaken the reshaping of Vuvu Access Road, regravelling of Bethania Access Road and reshaping of the Elenge to Bethula Access Road as well as Sithabathaba Acess Road. These interventions are aimed at ensuring that residents can travel more easily and safely while improving access to schools, healthcare facilities, economic opportunities and other essential services. They also support the movement of public transport, emergency services and municipal teams responsible for delivering services to communities. The continued maintenance of these Access Roads reflects Elundini Local Municipality's commitment to turning infrastructure investment into tangible improvements in the daily lives of communities. Through targeted construction and maintenance projects across its wards, the municipality continues to work towards building better-connected, accessible and resilient communities.

Ward 14 Councillor Akhona Siphambo

When winter arrives in the Elundini and Joe Gqabi region, the Drakensberg Mountains are often transformed into a breathtaking white landscape, creating one of the area's most recognisable natural spectacles. It is within this beautiful mountain setting that Ward 14 is found — a rural community defined not only by its surroundings, but by the people and villages that call it home. Ward 14 comprises 15 villages, which include including Vuvu; Sithabathaba; Ntabelanga; Nqalweni; Gasethi; Phuthini; Zindawo; Lundini; Lehana's Pass; Thabakgobedu; Sathube; Makhoaseng; Ditaung; Refele and Basia, with each community adding to the character and identity of the ward. Its rural landscape, connection to the land and strong community ties form an important part of everyday life.

The ward is led by Councillor Akhona Siphambo, alongside Proportional Councillor Mthobeli Siphamla, the former Planning and Economic Development Portfolio Head of Elundini Local Municipality. As the ward continues to grow, its development story is reflected in the programmes, infrastructure projects and community initiatives being implemented across its villages.
